BIOGRAPHY

Dame Wendy Hall, DBE, FRS, FREng is the Regius Professor of Computer Science in Electronics and Computer Science, University of Southampton and is a Director of the Web Science Institute. One of the first computer scientists to undertake serious research in multimedia and hypermedia, she has been at its forefront ever since. The influence of her work has been significant in many areas including digital libraries, the development of the Semantic Web, and the emerging research discipline of Web Science.

In 2006, Dame Wendy became a founding director of the Web Science Research Initiative (now called the Web Science Trust), along with Sir Tim Berners-Lee, Sir Nigel Shadbolt and Daniel Weitzner, in order to promote the discipline of Web Science and foster research collaboration between the University of Southampton and MIT. Her current research includes applications of the Semantic Web and exploring the interface between the social and life sciences and the physical sciences. She is Managing Director of the Web Science Trust.
